Position description

The Social Enterprise Clinic seeks applications for a Clinical Supervising Attorney position. Under the supervision of the Clinic Director, the Supervising Attorney's general responsibilities include training and supervising students in client representation; working on the Clinic's docket of projects and cases, developing and managing four or more client projects per semester independently (i.e., without a co-supervisor); and performing varied administrative and other tasks to assist in the Clinic's and Berkeley Clinical Program's operation.

The Social Enterprise Clinic is a transactional law clinic that requires students critically examine issues of racial and economic justice to achieve their entity client goals. The Clinic serves as outside counsel for social enterprise businesses-for-profit and nonprofit companies that use market-based strategies to address social and environmental issues. The Clinic is geared to students who are interested in exploring the potential power and limitations of market-based methods and thinking critically about the relationships between law, business, and racial equity. The Clinic advises social enterprise clients on a variety of corporate governance, regulatory compliance, contract drafting and analysis, corporate structure, and entity formation matters. Staff work collaboratively with clients to help them minimize risks and avoid pitfalls as they achieve their social impact goals and implement their theory of change.

The Clinic is committed to preparing law students from diverse backgrounds and providing first-rate legal representation to social enterprises providing services to disenfranchised and disempowered individuals and communities. The Berkeley Clinical Program is committed to building an equitable and inclusive faculty and staff to teach and work in a multicultural and antiracist learning environment. The law school provides support for Supervising Attorneys to attend conferences that advance their professional development goals and interests.

DUTIES

Under the supervision of the Clinic Director and in collaboration with any future Clinical Supervising Attorney, the Supervising Attorney will be responsible for:

Clinical Supervision (80%)

- Assist in designing and teaching components of the Clinic seminar
- Train and supervise six Clinic students per semester
- Manage Clinic client matters and vet new Clinic clients and matters
- Develop and maintain Clinic relationships with clients, strategic partners, co-counsel, and other community stakeholders
- Travel and offsite meetings as needed to represent clients
- Manage the Clinic docket during summers

Administrative Duties (15%)

- Support the development of Clinic policies and training materials
- Research social enterprise law and compose client alerts on timely matters
- Promote the Clinic to students and other constituencies
- Engage in media relations and development, including speaking at public events and with the press
- Participate in professional development, training, and networking activities

Other Duties as Assigned (5%)

- Perform other duties as needed

UC Field Work Supervisors are academic appointees in an organized bargaining unit and are exclusively represented by American Federation of Teachers - Unit 18.
